

Toolla Sp. z o. o.

Javascript Developer

JOB DESCRIPTION

- Join Toolla to design, code, and debug innovative web applications for high-profile business customers, including a state-of-the-art event scheduler based on advanced proprietary AI/machine learning technologies, to be launched by Toolla on the U.S. market.
- Work in a team with experienced Silicon Valley engineers.
- Thrive in our dynamic startup atmosphere among other tech enthusiasts, and take lead on crucial aspects of our projects.

WHO WE ARE

Toolla (www.toolla.net) is an application development startup based in Palo Alto, California and Gdansk, Poland. It was founded in 2015 by engineers with degrees from top U.S. universities, including MIT, U. Michigan and UC Berkeley. The company develops patented mobile and web solutions in the areas of automated and optimized event scheduling, digital marketing and healthcare. Its customers include fortune 500 US high-tech companies (e.g. Cisco, Avnet, Techdata).

REQUIREMENTS

The most suitable candidate should:

- have 4+ years of professional experience in developing web applications;
- be proficient in modern JavaScript, HTML5, CSS;
- be proficient in TypeScript, ReactJS, including Babel, Redux, Immutable, react-router;
- have experience in designing and implementing modern web animations;
- have working knowledge of Service Oriented Architectures and RESTful interfaces;
- have experience developing for multiple browsers (Chrome, Safari, FireFox, IE);
- knowledge of Java is a plus;
- be familiar with SQL and noSQL databases;
- be familiar with using version control systems, including git;
- have a higher education degree in Computer Science or related technical field;
- have good command of the English language.

OUR OFFER

- stable full-time employment
- very competitive compensation
- flexible work hours
- support for professional development
- no corporate-style hassle

Ready to join? Please send your CV (in English) to info@toolla.net